Keep up with the latest daily buzz with the BuzzFeed Daily newsletter! ABCs of Death 2 is a 2014 American anthology horror comedy film produced by Ant Timpson and Tim League. It contains 26 different shorts, each by different directors spanning various countries. It is a sequel to the film The ABCs of Death. The film received a much more positive response than its predecessor. List of Segments and Directors[] A is for Amateur (directed by E. L. Katz); An amateur hitman is given a contract to assassinate a drug dealer. B is for Badger (directed by Julian Barratt): A rude, narcissistic wildlife documentary director and his crew discover a badger mutated by radiation. C is for Capital Punishment (directed by Julian Gilbey): A town which handles local matters, including law and crimes, gives out the execution of a man for the supposed murder of a teenage girl. D is for Deloused (directed by Robert Morgan (animator)): A stop-motion animated short about a large bug that helps an executed man get revenge on his ghoulish killers. E is for Equilibrium (directed by Alejandro Brugués): Two castaways have their friendship tested when a beautiful woman washes ashore. F is for Falling (directed by Aharon Keshales and Navot Papushado): An Israeli female paratrooper caught in a tree is discovered by a young Arab boy. G is for Grandad (directed by Jim Hosking): A rude young man who has been living with grandfather for a year is exasperated by his grandfather's retro taste and lifestyle. H is for Invincible (directed by Bill Plympton): A man and woman kiss's turns into a surreal power struggle. I is for Invincible (directed by Dennison Ramalho): Two religious men kidnap and torture a young gay man. K is for Knell (directed by Kristina Buožytė and Bruno Samper): A woman experiences the effects of a black liquid that turns people into killers. L is for Legacy (directed by Lancelot Oduwa Imasuen): A ritual sacrifice goes horribly wrong after the sacrifice accidentally results in the summoning of a demonic creature. M is for Masticate (directed by Robert Boocheck): A man goes on a rampage after doing bath salts. N is for Nexus (directed by Hajime Ohata): A woman is sentenced to death by a courtroom full of sentient zombies who regained their intelligence via a vaccination that reverses the negative impacts of the zombie virus. P is for P-P-P SCARY! (directed by Todd Rohal): An homage to black and white comedy in which three prisoners encounter a strange man and a baby. O is for Ouestionnaire (directed by Rodney Ascher): A man takes an intelligence test on the street, juxtaposed with footage of the man's brain being forcibly removed and transferred to a gorilla after he aced the test. R is for Roulette (directed by Marvin Kren): Two men and a woman play Russian roulette while hidden in a basement. S is for Split (directed by Juan Martinez Moreno): A woman is attacked in her home while on the phone with her husband. T is for Torture Porn (directed by Jen and Sylvia Soska): A woman (Tristan Risk) is treated misogynistically at an audition. U is for Utopia (directed by Vincenzo Natali): An unattractive man is singled out in a mall full of seemingly perfect people and publicly executed by a patrol drone after knocking over a post. V is for Vacation (directed by Jerome Sable): A video call between a man on vacation and his girlfriend goes horribly wrong. W is for Xylophone (directed by Julien Maury and Alexandre Bustillo): A grandmother (Béatrice Dalle) is emotionally affected by her grandchild's xylophone playing. Y is for Youth (directed by Soichi Umezawa): A young girl violently fantasizes about the deaths of her abusive, negligent family. Z is for Zygote (directed by Chris Nash): A pregnant woman has been staving off birth for 13 years and living with her grown child inside her stomach after her husband left years ago. Reception of Reception for ABCs of Death 2 has been mostly positive. It currently has a 76% "Fresh" rating on film review aggregate website Rotten Tomatoes with an audience rating of 6.1/10 based on 29 reviews. Audience reaction however has been mixed to negative with an audience rating of 40% "Rotten". The ABCs of Death 2 is a rollicking short horror film anthology that feels like a festival. Sometimes it's gruesomely goofy, even great. At other points this alphabet and asked to interpret death based on their letter using shoestring budgets. Since certain parts are greater than the sum of the whole collage, what the hell, let's review every letter and every short film. It's the holiday season. Here's a brief note on each segment, with letter grades, obviously. A is for Amateur - Rodney Katz Assassination goes bad, and the audience laughs. B- B is for Badger - Julian Barratt Prick alpha male TV show host gets what he deserves from a family of nasty, likely radioactive badgers. A- C is for Capital Punishment - Julian Gilbey The beheading of an innocent Brit, featuring the unpleasant depiction of someone's head being chopped into then messily removed. Preachy, obvious, and violent. F D is for Deloused - Robert Morgan A very unpleasant, Kafka-esque stop motion fever dream full of bug anuses and other gross things. C E is for Falling - Aharon Keshales and Navot Papushado Female Israeli soldier gets stranded in a tree after a jump and is found by a young Palestinian boy. Egads, the emotions in this one. B+ G is for Grandad - Jim Hosking ... I kinda found this funny. Get ready for British twits, long-harbored resentments, and uncomfortable nudity! B+ H is for Head Game - Bill Plympton Calm down, Bill. This cartoon about grotesque kissing was probably a neat album cover concept. D I is for Invincible - Erik Matti Spastic exorcism comedy about a family shamelessly looking for their inheritance. Just a series of loud noises and effects. D+ I is for Jesus - Dennison Ramlho A flashy, cheap, laughably overwrought exorcism meant as absolution for homosexuality. D+ K is for Knell - Kristina Buozyte and Bruno Poetic, elegiac take on a poisonous, murder-inducing, mysterious black liquid. This is the most attractive and elegant contribution to the anthology. A- L is for Mastification - Robert Boocheck Hilariously creepy take on modern drugs; works well into its abrupt punchline. B+ N is for Nexus - Larry Fessenden The Last Winter's promising helmer pieces together an over-blown and awfully sad relationship. An editing exercise more than a short. C+ O is for Ochlocracy - Hajime Ohata One of those shorts where the idea totally outweighs the execution. Zombies go to court. Ha. B- P is for P-P-P-P SCARY - Todd Rohal Like a stupid Guy Maddin short, this bumbling escaped convict shocker is guilty of misusing both Looney Tunes and The Three Stooges. C- O is for Ouestionnaire with primal brain surgery. A gross thinker. B+ R is for Roulette - Marven Kren Some stylish demons being held at bay? Next, please. C- S is for Split - Juan Martinez Moreno Crackerjack split-screen usage as a helpless British man stays on the line with his wife during a brutal, unforgiving home invasion. The twist is actually shocking, and it's directed with total assurance. A truly upsetting, effective short. A T is for Torture Porn - Jena and Sylvia Soska A slithery but potent jab at the porn industry's propensity to treat women like shit. B U is for Utopia - Vincenzo Natali From the director of Splice and Cube and some episodes of Hannibal comes a nicely crafted pastiche of post-Orwellian dystopia. B V is for Vacation - Jerome Sable Awful bros get what they deserve in a Facetime short. D-W is for Wish - Steven Kostanski Maybe that SNL skit about Chris Pratt playing He-Man after he comes to life was a rip-off of this? You'll see, but there's a reason it's best to have toys, and not live out the fantasies they offer. B X is for Xylophone - Julien and Alexadnre Bustillo Think real hard about who you hire to babysit your kids. Like, see if anything, like the ping of a xylophone, could set them off. This one's very upsetting. B+ Y is for Youth - Soichi Umezawa A young girl's angst and disdain for her parents make for some grody, fun fantasy. C+ Z is for Zygote - Chris Nash A mother keeps her child in the womb for 13 years. Disturbing, gory, graphic, and somehow actually sweet, it forces a nasty twist, but commits to its nonsensical premise with a neat perspective. B More enjoyable than the original, but still pretty average 26-part horror anthology film, with varying degrees of quality. I've always enjoyed the concept of the 'ABCs of Death' films, though the execution can sometimes be disappointing, this is expected. The sequel took a lot less of a horror-comedy than the original, which I think works well. If you enjoyed the first, you'll probably like this a little more. C, L, and K all stand out to me as the best of the bunch. S gets a special mention as well because of the cinematography and direction. Not bad, but not probably worth a re-watch either.misanthr0pistFeb 22, 2021See detailed box office info on IMDbProSuggest an edit or add missing contentBy what name was ABCs of Death 2 (2014) officially released in Canada in English?Answer
